Halliburton joins as Platinum sponsor of 2018 Jacobs Fore Youth Benefit Golf Tournament; Weld County Garage Buick GMC to supply a GMC truck as hole-in-one prize

FORT LUPTON, Colo. – Halliburton, one of the world's largest providers of products and services to the energy industry, is showing its local-hero colors by becoming a Platinum sponsor of the 2018 Jacobs Fore Youth Benefit Golf Tournament. Halliburton's generosity will help us support local youth programs in Fort Lupton and Weld County. Also, golfers playing in next week's event will vie for a chance to win a new GMC truck, courtesy of Weld County Garage Buick GMC. All they have to do to drive home in that amazing vehicle is hit a certifiable hole-in-one.

The City of Fort Lupton, in partnership with Jacobs and the business community, will present the 2018 Jacobs Fore Youth Benefit Golf Tournament on Friday, Aug. 10, 2018, at 8 a.m. at Coyote Creek Golf Course. More than 100 players have signed up to have fun, win some prizes and raise funds for the Fort Lupton Recreation Center's Teen Program and the Boys & Girls Clubs of Weld County.

Jacobs, formerly CH2M, has operated and maintained Fort Lupton's water and wastewater utility systems since 1999. Jacobs has hosted the golf tournament nearly as long, raising more than $55,000 for youth and recreation programs over the years.

Halliburton and Weld County Garage Buick GMC join sponsors SEMA Construction, Anadarko, United Power, Colorado Analytical Laboratory, IMA of Colorado, J&T Consulting and DEWCO for this year's tournament. Golfer registration has closed, and we're ready to make this event a great success. However, if you're interested in donating to support the Fort Lupton Recreation Center's Teen Program and the Boys & Girls Clubs of Weld County, please contact Jess Kulas at jess.kulas@jacobs.com
